An exciting opportunity has arisen in the West Ham United media department for a Media Officer.

The ideal candidate will need to have an interest and understanding of football, be hardworking, reliable and professional at all times, have a creative, outgoing character with accomplished communication skills and be able to work anti-social hours to include weekends and evening as requested.

Key Responsibilities:

- Helping to manage the matchday media operation at London Stadium, including access, accreditation, press liaison and Premier League compliance with the match manager.
- Assist with management and player press appearances, interviews and press conferences.
- Assisting with an on-going communications calendar including player appearances and commercial obligations with player involvement.
- Significant role when it comes to all media matters relating to West Ham United Ladies and the club's Academy.
- Play an important role in media monitoring, flagging any potential issues before they become public and developing strategies to tackle them.
- Assist with the writing of web stories, press notices, programme articles, media briefings, social media messages and other written content.
- Lead on the collation of media coverage involving West Ham United, its manager, staff and players, as well as London Stadium.
- Acting as point of contact for media enquiries and drafting quotes, statements and responses for sign off by senior staff.

- Assist with drafting club statements and communications for board approval, and being on call at all times to deal with fast-developing situations in the media spotlight.
- Helping to develop a bridge between the first team, management and administration staff, in particular media, commercial and the West Ham United Foundation, to deliver commercial and community obligations.
- Pro-actively explore opportunities for high-profile coverage in support of the Club's key corporate objectives, and present these ideas to senior managers on a regular basis.
- Working with the Premier League and its rights holders to fulfil all obligations and avoid any penalties from the governance department.
